

Our teams have had the privilege of joining them. At one school with more than 400 students, a young man named Joshua stood up to share devotions. He quoted over 20 scriptures from memory and spoke boldly from God’s Word. Joshua lives with his grandmother, and just a year after giving his life to Christ, he received his very first Spanish Bible. Today, he dreams of finishing high school and attending Bible school to become a pastor. God has completely transformed his life.

At another school with 840 students, the principal shared her heart with us. She believes God has entrusted every one of those children to her care. She is praying not only that her students come to faith in Jesus, but that they carry the Gospel home—impacting families, pushing back darkness, and bringing hope to their entire community.

We also visited a high school with over 2,500 students. The vice principal shared his vision of every student knowing Jesus and understanding that the Bible is their guide for life. We were able to place 3,000 Bibles into the hands of students and teachers there.

Because of the faithful work of Asten and Vilma, God has now opened an extraordinary door. Leaders in Honduras have made it possible for God’s Word to be taught in public schools. Government officials are requesting 2 million Bibles, hoping students will spend time each day reading and studying Scripture.

This is not something man could orchestrate—this is the hand of God.

We believe this is a moment we cannot miss. For just $3.48, a student can receive a Spanish New King James Bible that could change the course of their life forever.

Would you prayerfully consider partnering with us to help reach the next generation in Honduras?

This is a big need—but we serve a big God. Whether individually, as a family, or through your church or youth group, your partnership can help place God’s Word into the hands of students who are ready and waiting.

Together, we can help change Honduras' future.
